DCM: Hello District 9! I am not able to be in attendance this month. I want to remind everyone that next business meeting is JULY 12th (the second weekend). I also wanted to urge you to sign up for the fall conference (atleast registration and/or meals) so you can be thinking about that. There are flyers on the table. I will be in attendance at the Spring Conference so I hope to see many of you there. Don't forget that Area 24 Archives will be doing an open house on that Friday. There are also flyers for that. I have send in the new Clinton GSR information to the alternate delegate to add. As always, if you need anything, please don't hesitate to reach out! Thank you!

In love and service Jaclyn M

Alt DCM: Greetings District 9, There were 20,099 visitors to aaquadcities.org website during April. Of those, 1,252 remained on the site for more than 30 seconds, which is slightly lower than our monthly average of 1,400. The Meetings page is still the most visited page. However, in exciting news, the Calendar Page jumped two spots to come in 2nd. The Flyers page was the 3rd most visited page, with the Virtual Meeting Page plummeting to 4th. On the 19th and 22nd of April, the website was down for 6 minutes. Then on the 21st of April, it went down for two minutes. On May 1st, the website was down for 5 and 11 minutes. Randy is working on a proposal for switching from GoDaddy to IDC Soft. Hopefully it will be done soon. Just a reminder about the flyer page with QR codes for groups to post; one takes you to the website the other takes you to the Meeting Guide. As always, keep checking the flyers page for any type of group announcement. In Love and Service, Kevin K. District 9 Alt DCM

Archives: Hello! I am continuing to work on the inventory for archives. I have acquired a lock for the filing cabinet. Since a move is in the future, I thought it best. I am looking forward to Area 24 Archives Open House. I encourage anyone to attend the June 12, 10 am to 12 pm Open House. Jeff, current Area 24 Archives Chair, is working hard and this will be the end of his term this year. He has been so helpful with every question I have had. I attended the District 90 & Area 20 Corrections, Treatment, and Bridging the Gap workshop. There were 4 men that drove several hours to attend. These men had been incarcerated and attended AA meetings inside. They shared how AA guided them when they were ready to make changes. One man mentioned how going to AA in a maximum setting can make you look weak to other inmates but he wanted a change and followed through. Another man said he didn't want to drive this far on that day, but the man who came every week to his facility was there and he wanted to do it for him. I attended Blandine's 72nd Anniversary, where the archives DVD was playing with subtitles. Erica spoke at the meeting and shared she had been the District 9 Archives Chair and remembered how Ebby and come to Davenport. If any group is interested in the new revised "Markings on the Journey" AA history story, District 9 has the DVD and the USB-C copies to borrow or play at an event. I also attended the 33rd anniversary of Courage to Change group. Thank you, and please let me know if you have any interest in being part of the Archives committee or any other questions. In service, Christy P. Archives Chair

CPC: morning all! Nothing new to report at the moment, things are pretty slow. The PI chair and I still have plans for a workshop later in the year. I am going to spring conference and am looking forward to hearing/sharing new ideas for CPC work. I will update everyone after the conference. I am still meeting regularly with my committee and we are working some new avenues that I will share when we get more information. in love and service
Ronna

Grapevine: Some Grapevines were dropped off at Scott Community Library. The June issue of Grapevine features stories of individuals who came into the program at a young age. Some stories also include information about YPAA (Young People in Alcoholics Anonymous) conferences. You can purchase subscriptions to the app, print magazines, or both. There are monthly, yearly, two year, and three year subscriptions for all three types of subscriptions. You can gift a Grapevine subscription through the "Carry the Message" program. They also have a podcast every Monday and are on instagram. Anyone can submit stories and learn more at aagrapevine.org. Amber J.

Intergroup Liaison: Open position

Public Info: John Deere invited us to participate in their health fair again this year. Vickie and I were there from 6-2:30 on Thursday 5/17. We gave out schedules and pamphlets. Thank you to Big book study for letting us borrow their QR code stand. Several people took the info and I spoke to one gentleman who was 1 week sober! I will be attending the conference in June. Love and service, MJ

3 Legacies: The Three Legacies continues to have steady attendance both virtually and in person at our Thursday 6:00 p.m. speaker meeting at Asbury Church. Last week, we held a brief business meeting to discuss the proposed agenda item (PAI). It sparked a lot of great discussion and brought up some thoughtful questions. I was able to pass those questions along to the author of the PAI, who responded quickly and even updated the background information to include some of the points our home group members raised. It was really neat to see the upside-down service triangle in action and to be reminded that every voice matters. Our members' questions and ideas were heard and helped shape the conversation moving forward. Unfortunately, I am not able to attend the Spring Conference this year, but our wonderful Alternate GSR, Rebecca, will be there to represent our group's conscience and carry our voice. Our next business meeting will be Thursday, June 18. In love and service, Erin B.
